

A child's rucksack is not only a rucksack but also
YOUR FRIEND & HELPER.

Not only big hikers, but also little ones have to be able to count on their equipment // That's why TATONKA doesn't simply offer a smaller version of the full-sized rucksack, but professional rucksacks that are especially designed to meet the needs of children.

In doing so, TATONKA places great value on children's safety. All children's rucksacks are equipped with safety strips and reflective surfaces that are immediately recognisable. And thanks to the bright yellow rain covers, young adventurers will be safe, even in inclement weather.

And another equally as important safety factor is that the rucksack perfectly fits the contours of the child's back. TATONKA has several models in its range that are suitable for children – for every age, every size and every use. The Waldy and Jobo rucksacks were specifically developed for use in woodland kindergartens. Everything a child needs on their expedition fits into these roomy toppers. For trekking excursions, the rucksack models Mowgli and Baloo are ideal. With their new colours, they are upstaging all of the grown-up models. The Tivanino rucksack is ideally suited to small trekking experts. With its comfortable X-Vent carrying system, it guarantees optimum air circulation and weight distribution, making it the perfect companion for longer tours.

The Mowgli child's rucksack is much more than a small version of the grown-up's model // The padded back carrying system is ideally adapted to the anatomy of children over the age of 6.

Read more about the Mowgli child's rucksack on page 164.

You found the right rucksack; now let the fun begin // So that children really enjoy hiking, you should take note of the following rules: 1. Only take tours that are intended for your child's age group. 2. Select the right weight for the child's rucksack. 3. Ensure sufficient security.

Children aged between three and five can participate in short tours carrying up to 1 kg of weight. Children from 6–10 years old can go on day treks carrying up to 5 kg of weight. Children aged 10 and older are often able to keep up with grown-ups, but the tour should not exceed more than 7 hours per day and their rucksack should not weigh more than 7 kg. Teenagers are able to handle moderate climbing tours or hut hiking tours lasting several days.

HIKING IS FUN IF YOU'RE IN THE RIGHT COMPANY.

The most important aspect is the safety of your children. That is much easier if you feel secure yourself and have the terrain under control. While navigating narrow, difficult areas it is often sufficient to take the child by the hand. If you are on longer, more difficult treks, your child should always be fitted with a hip or chest belt and should carry an approx. 10-metre long piece of rope. In all cases, make sure you avoid all recognisable dangers such as rockslides and any situations that could scare your child. If you take these tips to heart, nothing will stand in the way of a fun hiking excursion.
